Fellow nurses,

The heart of patient care exhibited by the nursing profession was present well before the pandemic, but the pandemic intensified the public’s awareness of your ongoing resiliency and dedication. Stay strong and steady in your endless goal of providing each and every patient high quality, safe nursing care.

During this time, I encourage each of you to prioritize self-care and to seek out resources to assist you with any challenges that you are facing, both personally and professionally, and also take time to highlight what you have been grateful for over these last 16 months. I am a strong believer that when we care for ourselves, we are better able to care for our patients, physically, mentally, and emotionally.

To continue to support the demands of the nursing workforce, the NCBON approved multiple waivers: COVID-19 Guidance and Temporary Waivers | North Carolina Board of Nursing (ncbon.com). These waivers have been extended to December 31, 2021. The NCBON wishes to thank the NC Medical Board and the NC Midwifery Joint Committee in working with us to extend these waivers for nurse practitioners and certified nurse-midwives.

This Bulletin provides you with the opportunity to make a difference in nursing regulation by voting for the next Board members. No other nurses in the nation have this right as NC is the only state where the majority of the Board members are elected by the licensed nurses of the state. The election is conducted annually from July 1st to August 15th. This year we have 25 nurses placed on the slate of candidates. Taking the leap into a leadership position on a state level takes courage. I commend each of the candidates and wish them all the best of luck in the election! I encourage all licensed nurses to review the slate of candidate biographies and cast your vote. Make your voice heard!

I am pleased to announce that the NCBON office has re-opened to the public effective June 1st. Please note that an appointment will be required, and we will continue to follow processes to protect staff and visitors.

At this time, I would like to mention recent Board member transitions. After 4 years of service, Becky Ezell, WakeMed Staff Nurse, has accepted a new position as an Educator at Johnston UNC Health Care. I thank Becky for her years of service and dedication to the work of the NCBON. I wish to extend a warm welcome to Chester C. Farley, BSN, RNC-MNN. Mr. Farley is a staff nurse at Duke Ambulatory Surgery Center. He brings 16 years of nursing experience and leadership.

I will close with another thank you for providing safe and effective nursing care to the public and a reminder to make time to care for yourself and your loved ones as well.

Regards,

Crystal L. Tillman, DNP, RN, CNP, FRE
Chief Executive Officer

letter from the CHAIR

As I reflect on the last 16 months, I realize that I have been re-energized by the meaning and purpose of being a nurse.

We have had so many sad experiences, losing colleagues and loved ones and working long hours away from our own families. We have been fearful of something as ordinary as grocery shopping or pumping gasoline.

Yet through it all and to every lay person I speak to that has lost someone, I try and assure them that nurses were there for their loved one. The nursing profession, in my opinion, has not only risen to the challenges before us, but we have exceeded all expectations.

Not only have our nurses done so, but so have our other interprofessional colleagues. Everyone stepped up, across all roles and settings, to care for the citizens of North Carolina.

The Nurses at the bedside deserve our sincere and heartfelt thanks as well as those "behind the scenes" that supported them every day. Clinical Nurse Educators quickly pivoted and developed online learning seemingly overnight to support novice and experienced staff. Nursing Faculty engaged students in new ways of learning. Nurse Leaders carried the heavy burden of caring for patients and families, as well as their staff, themselves and their families. Nurse Informaticists streamlined documentation. Nurse Researchers and Nurse Innovators participated in landmark studies and developed innovations to support our patients and to protect our staff.

And Nurse Regulators, such as those at your own nationally recognized Board of Nursing, implemented the critical work around temporary waivers, enabling our new graduate RNs and Advanced Practice Registered Nurse Providers to practice while waiting for testing centers to open up and other services that had been shuttered due to the global pandemic to become available once again. This was done while the other vital functions of the Board continued without interruption.

I hope that the spirit of kindness and caring continues on as we move through this next phase of our unchartered journey as professionals.

Well done, colleagues.

Respectfully,

Pamela B. Edwards, EdD, MSN, RN-BC, CNE, CENP

NCBON History
The NCBON was founded in 1903 and was the first Board of Nursing in the nation. At that time, the name of the NCBON was the NC Board of Examiners. Mary Lewis Wyche, recognized as the first registered nurse in the United States, was the first individual appointed to the NC Board of Examiners and there were only 35 licensed nurses. Of those 35 licensed nurses, Josephine Burton from Craven County was the first state-registered nurse and Annie Lowe Rutherford, a graduate of Freedman’s Hospital in Washington, DC, was the first African American Nurse. In 1929, the first male registered nurse endorsed into North Carolina from Pennsylvania. From those early years, the NCBON has grown to license over 166,000 registered nurses and licensed practical nurses statewide. In addition, the advanced practice nursing pool continues to grow. As of May 4, 2021, there were 10,293 Nurse Practitioners, 3,522 Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetists, 362 Certified Nurse-Midwives, and 259 Clinical Nurse Specialists (NCBON, 2021). Today, your Board of nursing is recognized statewide and nationally for its leadership in healthcare regulation and innovation. In 2020, the National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN) awarded the NCBON with the Regulatory Achievement Award. The NCSBN’s Annual Report can be reviewed here: 2020 NCSBN Annual Report | NCSBN. For more information on the NCBON’s rich history, visit our website at https://www.ncbon.com/board-information-historical-information.

North Carolina is the only state in the nation that elects its nurse members. Eleven of the fourteen members are elected by nurses holding NC nursing licenses. This is a unique process and opportunity for the licensed nurses of NC. In other states, the Board members are appointed by government officials. Election of nurse members provides the licensed nurses of NC a voice in the selection process, as well as, the opportunity for leadership on a state level. This could be an opportunity for NC licensed nurses to be at the table during discussions to raise questions, dialogue, and develop the policies that impact the profession of nursing while working to meet the mission, vision, and values of the NCBON.

NCBON’s Mission, Vision, and Values
The NCBON’s mission is to “protect the public by regulating the practice of nursing.” The Board’s vision is “exemplary nursing care for all.” The Board’s values are: Professionalism, Accountability, Commitment, and Equity.

The purpose of this article is to provide North Carolina (NC) licensed nurses a historical overview of the North Carolina Board of Nursing (NCBON), the work of the NCBON, and the Board member election process. and foundation for the overall function and work of the Board members and staff. The Board members set policy and Board staff implement and conduct the work of the NCBON.

NCBON’s Strategic Plan

The NCBON’s current strategic plan can be reviewed here: strategic-plan-18-21.pdf (ncbon.com). The strategic plan supports the mission, vision, and values. The process for developing the next strategic plan has started and the NCBON will be seeking information from the nursing community and external stakeholders to facilitate the development of the new strategic plan. These requests will be posted to the NCBON website, sent out via email, and posted to the NCBON’s Facebook page. This will be an opportunity to assist the NCBON in establishing the next strategic plan. Healthcare and regulation have changed drastically during 2020, and the NCBON values the input of the nursing community and external stakeholders as the NCBON looks toward the future of nursing.

NCBON’s Response to Nursing Workforce Demands During 2020

On March 10, 2020, Governor Roy Cooper issued Executive Order No. 116 Declaration of a State of Emergency to Coordinate Response and Protective Actions to Prevent the Spread of COVID-19 (https://governor.nc.gov/documents/executive-order-no-116). Regulation of nursing in NC during a global pandemic took center stage for both Board members and staff. The pandemic challenged the NCBON to find innovative ways to ensure public protection while providing avenues for licensed nurses and graduating students to continue to provide care to the citizens of NC. The NCBON approved waivers for all levels of nursing from the new graduate to retired nurses to ensure continued availability of nurses to care for patients (COVID-19 Guidance and Temporary Waivers | North Carolina Board of Nursing (ncbon.com)). During 2020, nursing regulators rapidly adapted to the needs of the community. The following are reflections from NCBON leadership.

Julie George, RN, MSN, FRE, NCBON Chief Executive Officer (CEO; 2008-2020), reflected on how the NCBON focused on the mission to protect the public during the pandemic:

“Leading our organization at the onset of the pandemic was a challenge, but also an opportunity for laser focus. It reminded us of our core purpose: doing the meaningful work of public protection. It was a time to look to your mission and core values for guidance. It was also a time to be agile and creative in order to avoid interruption of the supply chain of nurses. We were able to provide waivers so that new graduates could move seamlessly into the workforce. It was an unprecedented time to work collaboratively and partner with others, removing barriers while staying true to our mission. I was so proud of our staff and Board, and especially proud of our North Carolina nurses” (personal communication, May 5, 2021).

Crystal Tillman, DNP, RN, CNP, FRE, reflected on her transition to the CEO in the midst of the pandemic: “Although 2020 posed significant challenges for the nursing profession, nursing regulators, patients, and all the various healthcare providers, together we have learned to be innovative, trust our intuition, and be forward thinking, all while keeping our focus on the patient.

As we move forward from this past year, the NCBON will be focusing on the future of regulation through development of the 2022 – 2025 Strategic Plan. The pandemic further defined the Board’s focus on how we regulate in an ever-changing technologically advanced culture as nursing evolves through telehealth, use of artificial intelligence, and increased nursing in rural and underserved areas. The Board will continue to evaluate and address the needs of the nursing profession to effectively regulate nursing practice to protect the citizens of North Carolina. I look forward to working with the nursing community in my new role of CEO” (personal communication, May 14, 2021).

Pam Edwards, EdD, MSN, RN, NPD-BC, CNE, CENP, 2021 NCBON Chair, reflected on nursing and nursing regulation during the pandemic. Dr. Edwards wrote: “This last year has been challenging for us all. Interestingly, 2020 was designated the Year of the Nurse and Midwife. Fittingly, little did we know that we would witness extraordinary heroism. Nurses across the world and right here in North Carolina acted with courage, professionalism, and resilience while caring for our citizens and fighting this global pandemic. Many nurses and other health professionals lost their own lives while caring for others. Through it all, once again we were voted the “most trusted” profession by the Gallup Organization.

The North Carolina Board of Nursing was founded in 1903, making it the first Board of Nursing in the nation. From its humble beginnings, the North Carolina Board of Nursing has grown to license more than 166,000 Registered Nurses and Licensed Practical Nurses statewide. North Carolina remains the only state in the nation that elects the majority of nurses to its Board. As I contemplate this past year as a Board member, I would be remiss if I didn’t mention the nearly seamless pivot from in person to online meetings facilitated by our excellent Board staff, the transition of our Board CEO Julie George to the well-prepared Crystal Tillman, and those historic waivers that were put into place by our Board to ensure a ready and prepared nursing workforce.

We have been guided along the way by our mission to protect the public by regulating the practice of nursing. We worked across discipline groups and within nursing settings to expedite the student transition to practice in support of preparations for our surge of COVID-19 patients. We learned about PPE and taught donning and doffing properly to our colleagues. And once the vaccines were approved for Emergency Use Authorization, we jumped in to administer lifesaving vaccines to our communities. While we missed some of the pomp and circumstance that I personally would have hoped for in a year that honored our profession, we managed to exceed my expectations. We answered a call to action. And the action changed lives” (personal communication, May 3, 2021).

Ann Marie Milner, DNP, MSN, RN, CNE, NCBON, Vice Chair, reflected on nursing regulation during the pandemic. Dr. Milner wrote:

“When I think back on how the pandemic affected my work for the Board, I would have to say the only thing that changed for me was meeting remotely instead of in person. The NCBON leadership and staff never missed a beat during the pandemic. Although, I know it was not an easy task to do, they made it seem seamless for us the “elected/appointed Board members” to complete our work. The Board staff and leadership worked to support the Board members so we were prepared to make decisions needed during the pandemic. One of those decisions that affected me as a Board member and as an educator was the waiver for Emergency Temporary Graduate RN/LPN Nurse License. This waiver allows nursing students to work as graduate nurses during the pandemic. The nursing graduates are ready to hit the ground running and are excited about working in a profession that enables them to use their clinical judgment and skills to care for patients” (personal communication, May 6, 2021).

Andrea Jeppson, LPN, reflected on nursing regulation during a pandemic. Ms. Jeppson wrote:

“When the pandemic started we were charting unknown territory, but as nurses we were resilient in our efforts to protect the welfare of our patients. When the pandemic grew to greater numbers, the Board approved new nurses to work before taking NCLEX® and retired nurses to come back to the work force. Patients came first! Even with everything going on around us, we were still able to hold business as usual, in a manner of speaking, as we transitioned to virtual meetings with the help of our great staff. Holding meetings virtually takes patience, but staff and licensees worked well together. In the midst of a crisis, it truly takes a village” (personal communication, May 7, 2021).

When reflecting on her service with the NCBON, Pamela Edwards, EdD, MSN, RN, NPD-BC, CNE, CENP, 2021 Chair, wrote:

“Having the opportunity to serve four terms on the North Carolina Board of Nursing has taught me a great deal about the Board’s mission of protecting the citizens of North Carolina. Nursing regulation is not something that most of us learn about during our pre-licensure nursing, preparation in nursing. However, the practice of nursing and the responsibility and accountability that accompanies a nursing license is something we are all very familiar with. Our NCBON is seen as a leader in nursing regulation across the country and world. The opportunity to be elected to the Board brings responsibility and a greater understanding of why the nursing license is held with such importance and reverence. And there are so many functions of the Board related to education, practice, licensure, and discipline. I have developed as a nurse and as a professional during my tenure on the Board. I would encourage nurses to run for the Board of Nursing and participate in the election process. Don’t be afraid of losing! I lost the election once to a nurse leader who has become a treasured nursing colleague. The relationships that you develop are lifelong and the things that you learn will strengthen your own nursing practice” (personal communication, April 15, 2021).

Duties and Responsibilities

The major duties and responsibilities of NCBON Board members are defined in the Nursing Practice Act (GS 90-171.23). A portion of the duties are listed below:

• Issue its interpretations of the Nursing Practice Act (i.e. position statements and decision trees). These can be found on the NCBON website (www.ncbon.com)
• Adopt, amend, or repeal rules and regulations as necessary to carry out the provisions of the Nursing Practice Act (NPA)
• Establish qualifications of, employ, and set the compensation of an executive officer who shall be a registered nurse and who shall not be a member of the Board
• Examine, license, and renew the licenses of duly qualified applicants for licensure
• Investigate and take appropriate action for violations of the NPA
• Establish standards and monitor nursing programs that lead to initial licensure
• Implement and monitor continuing education of nurses
• Appoint advisory committees
• Appoint and maintain a subcommittee of the Board to work jointly with the subcommittee of the North Carolina Medical Board to develop rules and regulations to govern the performance of medical acts by registered nurses
• Recommend and collect such fees for licensure, license renewal, examinations, and reexaminations
• Implement the interstate compact
• Establish programs for aiding in the recovery and rehabilitation of nurses who experience chemical addiction or abuse or mental or physical disabilities and programs for monitoring such nurses for safe practice
• Establish programs for aiding in the remediation of nurses who experience practice deficiencies

NCBON Public Members

The NCBON has three public Board members or consumer members. One public member is appointed by the Governor and the remaining two are appointed by the General Assembly. Public members often have varying educational and professional backgrounds. The variations in education and professional experience enhance the discussion among Board members. NCBON public members are eligible to serve on all committees, serve as chair or vice-chair, and vote on all issues coming before the NCBON for consideration.

Tom Minowitz, Public Member, reflected on his service:

“I am so honored to be a part of a team that can help protect the public while shaping the future of nursing in North Carolina. In the past we have had tremendous leadership both from the CEO and the Chair, Vice Chair and Committee Chairs. This year is no different. The ‘new’ CEO has been a part of the team for quite some time so it has been a seamless transition for the Board. Our new Chair and Vice Chair are experienced committee members and bring a lot of leadership and so many other great qualities to their roles. I look forward to several more years serving the people of this awesome profession and the great state of NC” (personal communication, April 14, 2021).

Martha Ann Harrell, NCBON Board Member for 16 years, NCBON Chair, in 2015, 2016, and 2020, and Vice-Chair in 2014 reflected on her years of service on the NCBON. Mrs. Harrell was appointed one of three public members to serve on the NCBON. Mrs. Harrell wrote:

“The responsibility of being an NCBON Board member is one that should be approached with the utmost respect and attention but is also one that provides the highest personal reward along with professional growth and development. I would encourage any interested person to pursue this opportunity and, along with their fellow Board members, build upon the great tradition of enhancing public protection and nursing practice in North Carolina. Your experience on the NCBON will further enrich your understanding of nursing regulation and healthcare practice while providing the greatest insight into how nursing practice is vital to our communities across the state” (personal communication, May 15, 2020).

◆ Nurse Educator is any nurse who teaches in or directs a Board-approved nursing program. The individual must meet the minimum education requirements as established by the Board’s education program standards for nursing faculty. A nurse educator is not eligible to run in the At-Large position as there are 3 Nurse Educator positions on the Board: Practical Nurse Educator, ADN/Diploma Nurse Educator and BSN/Higher Degree Nurse Educator.

◆ Licensed Practical Nurse in any practice setting may run for a position on the Board if they meet the minimum requirements.

Board Member Qualifications

The Board, in accordance with the NPA | North Carolina Board of Nursing (ncbon.com) and Administrative Rules Chapter 36 OAH > NCAC > Title 21 - Occupational Licensing Boards and Commissions > Chapter 36 - Nursing - Browsing (state.nc.us), defines the minimum requirements for nurses to both seek election to the NCBON and maintain the position once elected. Minimum requirements include:

- Hold a current unencumbered license to practice in North Carolina;
- Declare North Carolina as the primary state of residence;
- Have a minimum of five years of experience in nursing and,
- Have been engaged continuously in a position that meets the criteria for the specified Board position, for at least three years immediately preceding the election.

In addition, licensees must have continuous employment equal to or greater than 50% of a full-time position that meets the criteria for the specified Board member position.

If elected to the Board, nurses serve a 4-year term. Newly elected and appointed Board members are sworn into office at the January Board meeting following the election and serve through December 31st of the 4th year. Prior to the conclusion of the 4th year of service on the NCBON, a nurse may choose to run for re-election. The same process is required for an individual seeking re-election. No Board member shall serve more than 2 consecutive 4-year terms or 8 consecutive years.

Ann Marie Milner, DNP, MSN, RN, CNE, 2021 Vice-Chair, provided the following insight regarding service on the NCBON:

“What a difference a year can make. The year of the Nurse and Midwife, 2020, coincided with the pandemic that has changed the lives of everyone. This past year has been challenging for everyone but especially for nurses. The pandemic highlighted the critical role that nurses have in caring for patients as a frontline worker. I want to thank all the nurses who work tirelessly to care and protect the patients in their charge, and I am honored to serve you as a Board member. I have been privileged to able to serve on the Board of Nursing since January 2019. During my time on the Board I have expanded my knowledge on protecting the public, Board procedures, policy, and regulation. Working collaboratively with other Board members and Board staff has been a rewarding experience both personally and professionally. I highly recommend serving on the Board of Nursing. I promise it will be a rewarding experience you will always remember” (personal communication, April 17, 2021).

Slate of Candidates and Election Process

Participating in the election is a significant way to influence the decisions that affect your nursing practice in North Carolina. Just like in governmental elections, you have the ability to elect candidates you feel are best qualified to carry out the duties and responsibilities related to your nursing practice. The Slate of Candidates, which contains biographical information, is available on page 16 of this issue. Take the time to get to know your candidates by reading the candidate biographies prior to casting your vote! Based on the survey results after nurses voted in the 2020 election, almost 56% of nurses who casted a vote during the election encouraged another nurse colleague to vote in the NCBON election. The top reason that influenced NC nurses to vote in the 2020 election, was that they viewed voting as their professional responsibility (86.4%), adequate knowledge of candidates was provided (67.6%), election process was quick and simple (64.6%), and received reminder email that voting period had begun (61.5%).
Voting is quick and easy! Log into your individual Gateway account, locate the logo for the electronic election system and you’re on your way! Before you cast your vote, be sure to review the Slate of Candidates which will be posted on your Gateway account. For more information on the electronic voting system, see the article Gateway Voting on page 20 of this issue.

Voting is open from July 1st through August 15th annually.

Professional Growth

Each year in the Winter issue of the Bulletin, the magazine published by the NCBON, a nomination form is published seeking licensed nurses in NC who are interested in running for a position on the NCBON. The nomination form includes the guidelines for submitting a nomination along with the positions available for the upcoming election. Keep in mind:

- RNs nominate RNs
- LPNs nominate LPNs
- Petitioners provide certificate number and signature
- Information is verified with the records of the Board to validate each nominee and petitioner holds appropriate NC licensure
- Nomination forms must be postmarked on or before April 1st to be considered for candidacy.
- For detailed information regarding the nomination process and to view a 3 minute video titled “Being a Board Member,” visit the Board’s website at https://www.ncbon.com/board-information-election-general-information.

Andrea Jeppson, LPN, 2021 Board Member, reflected on her Board service:

“I have only been on the Board for one year now (2020), and what a year it has been. The NCBON took COVID-19 head on and adapted to the processing of nurses, new and retired, so that patients could be taken care of during this time of need. There are so many wonderful people working hard at the Board to aid in protecting the patients and assisting the Board members. Being a Board member is more than suspending licenses, as many think, there is much time spent on Education, Regulation, and offering nurses different programs that may be needed to maintain their license. I have learned so much in the one year that I have been at the Board and would encourage any nurse to run for a position and be the one that can make a difference in a patient’s safety. It is an honor to be on the NCBON” (personal communication, April 9, 2021).

Nomination forms included in the January Bulletin are due on April 1st. Submitting a nomination form and completing the application can be a daunting process but continued on page 14

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES (DHHS) RELEASED NEW BUPRENORPHINE PRACTICE GUIDELINES

On April 28, 2021, DHHS removed required training that was part of the process for obtaining a waiver to treat up to 30 patients with buprenorphine.

Nurse Practitioners and Certified Nurse-Midwives with NC Approval to Practice and a valid DEA registration, may be exempt from the certification requirements related to thrining, counseling, and other ancillary services.

The exemption applies to:
- Schedule III, IV, and V drugs and does not apply to Schedule II medication such as methadone for the treatment of opioid use disorders.
- those treating no more than 30 patients at any one time. NC regulations still require a supervising physician with the same level DEA registration and a collaborative practice agreement.

The Governor’s Institute (GI) and NC DHHS have partnered to conduct a one-year pilot program focused on expanding the pool of MAT providers. The pilot will enable qualified PAs and NPs to prescribe buprenorphine even if their supervising physician is not waivered.

Physicians who supervise PAs and NPs waivered to treat patients for opioid use disorder, but who have themselves not completed all steps to qualify for their buprenorphine waiver, can join this pilot program. The GI and NC Society of Addiction Medicine will connect participants with resources and experienced buprenorphine mentors at no cost to participants.

Waivered APPs and their Supervising Non-waivered physicians may join this pilot if:

1. the physician has authority to prescribe Schedule III controlled substances;
2. the physician has taken an 8-hour training on medication-assisted treatment (MAT), i.e., the physician must be eligible to apply for a waiver even if the physician does not actually apply;
3. PA / NP has completed training and has a DATA waiver.

Pilot program:

- Sign up is easy and free: http://bup.addiction-medicine.org/
- If any participants (physicians, PAs, or NPs) need to complete buprenorphine/MAT training, visit http://bup.addiction-medicine.org/ or contact Pollen Williamson at pollen@govinst.org for more information on training needs.
- Participants who would like to be paired with an experienced buprenorphine mentor should contact Pollen Williamson at pollen@govinst.org.

All mentoring and training are free resources offered to participants in the pilot program. In one year, GI and NC DHHS will report data on the pilot to the NC Medical Board. Visit http://bup.addiction-medicine.org/ for more information.
